SUPPORTED BY

CHILDHOOD IS ABOUT PLAYING, DISCOVERING AND LEARNING!

To look back at a time of joyful memories is truly priceless. Children develop their sense of skill, confidence, positivity and creativity by spending time outdoors and being active.

To offer services to children with special needs, through our threefold programme, we train Physical Educators, Dance and Yoga teachers, Martial Art Trainers and Early Child Care Education teachers how to incorporate elements of therapy into fun filled movement based activities.

The programmes offered are:

PLAYPAL CERTIFICATION IN PLAY DEVELOPMENT FACILITATION

People take great pride and joy as they take care of and work with children. For these warm people we extend a well thought part time training program.

We offer keen insights through mentorship which we consider a prerequisite while working with children with special needs.

RIGHT TO PLAY

One can wonder about the spectrum of outdoor activities that can be offered to a child. Thus at PlayPal India, we offer a basic know how of introducing play skills in a child's life with special needs. We also offer to customize this workshop and cater to organizational needs. Prior to this, we have conducted this workshop in schools, sports academies and with parents as well.

LET'S PLAY LET'S LEARN

How about an interactive workshop? This we offer to parents of children with special needs aged 5 years and above. It helps them know their children better and to understand the teaching strategies to help their children learn play skills.
